Expressions from the Business Men on Lights

Some Think One Way and Some Another. What They Think and Why They Think It—Much Interest Manifested in the Matter.

The interest shown in the matter of electric light for the streets is great and nearly everybody has had something to say, pro or con, on the subject. Record and Chronicle reporters were assigned at this week to the securing of some views and interviews from the business men of the city, who should be not so much as those most widely interested in anything going to the upbuilding of the town. These views as secured are presented below:

Rose McCormick—The lights are a benefit to the city.
J. A. Sanders—I don't know, only I don't have them.
D. A. Fisher—Don't say how a city like Denton can afford the lights.

B. F. Paschall—I think the price is too high for the service we get.
D. P. Lipscomb—Want the lights at a fair price.

W. L. Foreman—Ought to have the lights, if we can get them at a fair price.

L. H. Schaefer—By all means we ought to have them.

P. C. Wilcox—Think the city ought to have the lights. I propose to leave the price to the council.

William Williams—Don't want them at the price we have been paying for them.

G. W. Wilson—I am opposed to paying more than a thousand dollars for the lights.

Thinks & Curtis—We want the lights; ought to have them at any reasonable price.

S. A. Gibson—We certainly ought to have the lights, if we can get them at a reasonable price.

P. J. Beyer—I want them, and then, ought to have them. If we can't get them for $1000, pay more.

G. E. King—I think the lights ought to be retained at a reasonable price, but don't know what that is.

C. J. McCrowder—We ought to have the lights at a fair price.

G. W. Adams—I think $1000 is enough for the lights.

J. H. Gilliam—They are not worth more than a thousand dollars a year to the city.

G. P. Scripture—I think we ought to destroy the lights and the power company, too. They are both nuisances.

H. F. Schaefer—Think the price we pay for them is too high. I don't want them for other cities of similar size.

W. J. McCray—I think we need the lights, but I possibly get along without them.

P. Parker—I am willing to abide with what the city council does; leave it to them.

C. A. Rathbone—Want the lights if we can have them at a reasonable price; if not, I don't want them.

C. A. Williams—I don't want them if they cost more than a thousand dollars per year.

Farlow & Bell—Certainly the city should have the lights. I don't want it to pay an unreasonable price for them.

Sharp Trading Co.—Don't want them. I don't want to pay too much for them. These are heavy enough.

Dr. O. Lipscomb—The $1000 proposition is a fair one for the service we get. I am in favor of retaining the lights.

R. L. Rane—Think we ought to have the lights. At the price we are paying for them, we can't get any more without them.

E. J. Witt—We should have the street lights by all means. Light and power company, no consideration of the fairness of the price paid.

S. B. Dobb—Don't see how we can do without the lights at all. The price is a proposition for getting along without them.

G. P. Scripture—City can't afford to do without them, but I think a thousand dollars a year is too much. Yet I should have them by all means.

G. H. Bask—I think the city ought to purchase the Denton Water, Light and Power company. I know we ought to have the lights.

W. F. Jarrell—The lights are of a decided benefit to the city. Don't know what would be considered a reasonable price.

A. S. Schaefer—I think the water works company ought to furnish them at a price in proportion to what other forms of utility pay.

R. A. Taylor & Son—We are in favor of discontinuing the lights if the power company won't accept the council's proposition of $1000.

TO THE FARMERS:

All the teams, cow stock and farm implements belonging to the Abney farm, three miles south of Sanger, are offered for sale very cheap for the next two weeks. Everything a farmer needs can be found there, and there are parties on the premises to show the goods which are for sale. Also, drill, disc harrow, sweep harrow, corn planter, wheat planter, cotton planter, two teams, three cows and calves etc.

Auction Sale Later

Hon. A. C. Owsley—They can do as they please about the street lights.
S. W. Keasby—I think the city is disappointed by the light. It is true that the price is heavy, but the benefits accrued from the lights are as well as domestic, and there are more than enough to pay for the lights. I believe that the Denton Water, Light and Power company will reduce the price as soon as they realize that they can do so.
